INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON ANNUAL ACCOUNTS (PYME)

To the Associations members of the FEDERACION DE ASOCIACIONES MEDICUS MUNDI ESPAÑA by appointment of its Executive Board:

Opinion

We have audited the annual accounts (PYME) of FEDERACION DE ASOCIACIONES MEDICUS MUNDI ESPAÑA (the Entity), which comprise the balance as at December 31, 2025, the income statement and related explanatory report for the year then ended.

In our opinion, the accompanying annual accounts (PYME) present fairly, in all material respects, the equity and financial position of the Entity as at December 31, 2025, as well as its financial performance for the year then ended, in accordance with the applicable financial reporting framework (as identified in note 2 of the notes to the annual accounts), and, in particular, with the accounting principles and criteria included therein.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance to the legislation governing the audit practice in force in Spain. Our responsibilities under those standards, are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the annual accounts (PYME) section of our report.

We are independent of the Entity in accordance with the ethical requirements, including those relating to independence, that are relevant to our audit of the annual accounts (PYME) in Spain, in accordance with the legislation governing the audit practice. In this regard, we have not rendered services other than those relating to the audit of the accounts, nor have situations or circumstances arisen that, in accordance with the provisions of the aforementioned legislation, have affected our necessary independence such that it has been compromised.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Most relevant aspects of the audit

Most relevant aspects are those that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the annual accounts (PYME) of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the annual accounts (PYME) as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on them.

Income registration for subsidies

As explained in the report, the Entity registers non-refundable subsidies directly in net equity and are recognized as revenue for the financial year correlated with the expenses financed. The reimbursable subsidies are recorded in the liabilities until they acquire the status of non-refundable and subsidies that will be executed by other entities and the Entity acts as a mere intermediary, only treasury movements are recorded. In the notes 12, 13 and 14 of the report are detailed the subsidies received in the financial year, the amounts pending to be executed or transferred to other entities belonging to the federation, as well as their imputation in the income statement for the year. The accrual of these revenues and expenses constitute a relevant aspect of the audit because of its importance over the Entity's revenues.

As part of our audit work, among other procedures, we have reviewed the criteria established by the Entity for the recognition of income coming from grants. We have also requested the documentation that supports the grant received in the year and validated its correct valuation, imputation criteria and we have verified too, that the funds received have been applied to its purpose. Finally, we have evaluated whether the information disclosed in the report complies with the requirements of the applicable financial reporting framework.

Executive Board's responsibility of the for the annual accounts (PYME)

The Executive Board is responsible for the preparation of the accompanying annual accounts (PYME), such that they fairly present the equity, financial position and financial performance of the Entity, in accordance with the financial reporting framework applicable to the entity in Spain, and for such internal control as the Executive Board determine is necessary to enable the preparation of annual accounts (PYME) that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the annual accounts (PYME), the Executive Board is responsible for assessing the Entity ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Executive Board either intend to liquidate the Entity or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the annual accounts (PYME)

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the annual accounts (PYME) as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that audits conducted in accordance with legislation governing the audit practice in Spain, will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these annual accounts (PYME).

As part of an audit in accordance with legislation governing the audit practice in Spain, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the annual accounts (PYME), whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Entity internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Executive Board.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Executive Board use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Entity ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the annual accounts (PYME) or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Entity to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the annual accounts (PYME), including the disclosures, and whether the annual accounts represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with the Executive Board regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we might have identified during our Audit.

Among any significant risk communicated with the Executive Board, we determine those matters that were of most significant in the audit of the annual accounts (PYME) of the current period and therefore the ones considered most significant.

Entity: FEDERATION OF MEDICUS MUNDI ASSOCIATIONS
Period: 2025

1.- ENTITY'S MAIN ACTIVITY

The not-for-profit Association medicusmundi Spain was established, with full legal capacity to act, in Barcelona in 1963. In 1992 the Association medicusmundi became a Federation and changed its name to the Federation of medicusmundi Associations in Spain (henceforth the Federation or FAMME). It has its headquarters at calle Lanuza 9, Madrid. Its Tax ID Number (C.I.F.) is G-80454549 and its Registry Number is F-1,430.

FAMME is a non-governmental, non-profitable organization working for international solidarity. It has a federal structure based on Associations from the Spanish provinces and autonomous regions and it is independent of the public authorities or any other economic, political or religious group. As of 31st December 2025, the Federation included eight member Associations, which carry out their activities from their headquarters in the various provinces and autonomous regions across Spain.

Having been granted Public Utility status by Ministerial Order dated 27th February 1998, certain aspects of the Federation's activities are governed by Law 49/2002 of 23rd December regarding the tax system for not-for-profit entities and tax incentives for patronage. The Federation is partially exempt from tax.

The Federation's principal activities, as set out in articles 9 and 10 of its Articles of Association, are as follows:

- "To help bring about changes in society by promoting a culture of solidarity and civic engagement, so that poverty can be eradicated, and health can be a right available to all."
- "To help improve the population's health by implementing a strategy to strengthen primary health care and to improve both the coverage and quality levels of health systems, whether public or in the private, not-for-profit sector."
- "To encourage poverty reduction in all its dimensions, with special attention to the most disadvantaged regions and communities."
- "To promote human rights, gender equity and environmental sustainability by introducing these perspectives into all the activities carried out by the Federation of medicusmundi Associations."
- "To support the social structure, the strengthening of institutions and the involvement of beneficiary communities in the dynamics of social empowerment with the aim of encouraging their growing role in the processes of change affecting them."
- "To foster solidarity and commitment in Spanish society towards people living in developing countries."
- "To support and coordinate the actions undertaken by the member Associations, to promote cooperation between them and to provide them with assistance and advice on any issue within the framework of these Articles of Association in order to fulfil the above aims."

provided comparative figures for the previous year for both the Statement of Financial Position and the Income Statement.

4.- ACCOUNTING AND VALUATION RULES

The principal accounting and valuation rules used by the Entity to prepare its Annual Accounts are as follows:

1) Intangible fixed assets

Intangible fixed assets solely relate to computer software, which is recorded at cost and depreciated on a straight-line basis over a maximum of 4 years.

2) Tangible fixed assets

Tangible fixed assets are shown in the Statement of Financial Position at cost plus, where relevant, any additional costs involved in making them ready for their intended use.

The Entity has not included any exchange rate differences, interest or any other financial charges in the purchase cost.

The Entity treats the costs of extending, updating, or improving an asset, when these are expected to increase the asset's estimated useful life, as increasing the book value of the asset up to a maximum of its market value. The costs of maintenance, servicing and repairs incurred during the year, however, are charged to the Income Statement.

Given its special characteristics as a not-for-profit entity, the Federation does not own any assets with the primary aim of generating a profit, as its goals are not profit-driven but rather involve promoting cooperation, education, and awareness-raising.

The Entity depreciates its tangible fixed assets on a straight-line basis, spreading the total cost of the assets over their estimated useful life, as follows:

Item	% anual
• Buildings	2%
• Fixtures and Fittings	5%
• Furniture	10%
• Computer Equipment	25%

3) Investment properties

Given the nature of the Entity, it does not generally own any assets which may be classified as investment properties, except those obtained through donations, bequests, and legacies.

4) Financial assets & liabilities

The Entity, given its nature and social aim generates financial assets & liabilities from time to time only, as it does not have a commercial traffic of goods or services, as its main social aim is the technical and economic support, for the development of actions and projects of international cooperation with countries under development, as well as of the execution of projects in education and sensibilization. In this sense, its activity is based in funds perception, both public and private, as well as grants with which the actions in which it collaborates are financed, as well as the management structure needed.

Therefore, the Entity has registered in the financial tools chapter, those contracts which generate a financial asset in an entity, and at the same time, a financial liability or an inheritance tool in a different entity. Therefore, the current norm is aplicable to the following financial tools:

a) Financial Assets:

- Cash and other equivalent liquid assets.
- Credits for commercial operations; clients and miscellaneous debtors.

- Third party credits: such as loans and financial credits given, included those that are generated through the sales of non-current assets.
- Securities representatives of loans from other parties acquired: such as obligations, bonds and promissory notes.
- Tools of heritage from other parties acquired: equities, shares in institutions of collective investment and other heritage tools.
- Derivatives with favorable valuation for the entity: such as futures, options and financial swaps and trading of foreign currency on term.
- Other financial assets: such as rights of collection for grants given to the entity, credits in credit entities, advance payments and credits to personnel, guarantees and deposits, dividends to collect and required disbursements over tools if own heritage.

b) Financial liabilities:

- Debits for commercial activities: suppliers and miscellaneous creditors.
- Debits with credit institutions.
- Obligations and other negotiable securities are submitted: such as bonds and promissory notes.
- Derivatives with unfavorable value for the entity: such as, futures, options, financial swaps and trading of foreign currency on term.
- Debts with special characteristics and
- Other financial liabilities: debts with third parties, such as loans and financial credits received from individual or entities different to credit institutions including those generated from the purchase of non-current assets, guarantees and deposits and required disbursements by third parties over shares.

Financial Assets fully depreciated

A financial Assets would be included under this category, even when it is under negotiation process in an organized market, if the entity maintains the investments with the main aim of perception of cash flow from the contract execution and the contractual conditions of the financial asset generate, in the given dates, to cash flows that are only from the main capital and interests over the pending capital.

Generally speaking, in this category credits for commercial activities are included and other financial assets fully depreciated:

a) Credits for commercial activities: financial assets derived from the sales of goods and provision of services from trade operations of the entity deferred payment

b) Other financial assets fully depreciated: those financial assets, nonbeing part of the heritage or derivatives, that are not based on commercial activities and whose payments are of determined value or determinable, that are generated from loan activities or credits given by the entity.

Initial value

- It would be valued at a reasonable value, with exception of contrary evidence, the value of the transaction would be equivalent to the given consideration, the transaction expenses that are directly assigned to it.
- However, to what is has been stated before, credit for commercial activities with due date below one year and that do not have a contractual interest, as well as advance payments to personnel, guarantees and dividends to collect requested over heritage tools, which its value is expected to be received in short-term, may be valued as its acquisition value when the impact of not revaluating the cash flows is not relevant.

Subsequent valuation

- The financial assets included under this category would be valued at its depreciated value.
- The interests accrued would be booked into the P&L, and its calculation based on effective interest rate. However, the credits with due date below one year, in agreement with what has been detailed before, would be valued initially with their acquisition value, and remain with the same valuation method, unless it may be deteriorated.

Deterioration of value

Minimum once a year, at period end, the value correction may be run as long as there is evidence that the value of a credit or a group of credits with similar characteristics of risks valued collectively, that has been devaluated as result of a series of events which have happened after its initial recognition, and that may impact in a reduction or a delay in the future estimated cash flows, that may be motivated because of the insolvency of a debtor. The loss from the value deterioration of financial assets will be the difference between the potential value reduction in books and the actual value of the future cash flows that it is estimated would be generated, discounted at the effective interest rate.

Financial assets maintained for negotiation

It is considered that a financial asset is maintained for negotiation when;

1. It is originated or acquired with the aim of selling it in the short term (e.g. representative securities of debt, whatever its due date may be, or heritage tools, quoted, that are acquired to be sold in the short term).
2. It is part of a portfolio of financial tools identified and managed jointly and there is evidence of recent activities to get earnings in the short term or,
3. It is a derivative financial tool, if it is not a financial guarantee contract and it has not been designed as a coverage tool.

Initial valuation

It would be valued at a reasonable value, except there is opposite evidence. In that case, it would be the price of the transaction that would be equivalent to the reasonable value of the given counter performance. The transaction expenses that are directly attributed would be recognized in the period P&L.

Subsequent valuation

The financial assets maintained for negotiation would be valued as their reasonable value, not deducting the transaction expenses incurred in its alienation. The changes at reasonable value would be registered directly in the P&L.

Financial assets at cost

In this category, it may be included;

a) Investments in heritage of the entities of the group, multigroup and associated, as those defined in norm 13, annual accounts preparation.

b) The remaining investments in heritage tools which reasonable value could not be determined based on a quoted price in the active market for an exact tool, or can't be estimated with reliability and the derivatives which may have as underlying these investments

c) The hybrid financial assets which reasonable value may not be estimated in a reliable manner.

d) The contributions generated as consequence of a contract of accounts in shares and similar.

e) The participative loans which interests may have contingent character.

f) Any other asset that initially could be classified in the value portfolio with changes in the P&L when it is not possible to get a reliable estimation of its reasonable value.

Initial value

Initially, they should be valued at cost, that may be equivalent to the reasonable value of the counter payment + the transaction costs which may be directly assigned to them.

Subsequent value

The heritage tools included under this category may be valued at their cost less than the cumulated value of the corrections related to its deterioration.

Value deterioration

Minimum once a year, at period end, the value correction may be run if there is evidence that booked value of an investment may not be recoverable.

The value corrections referred to deterioration and when applicable, its reversal may be registered as an expense or an income, respectively, in the P&L. The reversal of the deterioration may have as limit the booked value in the investment that may be recognized in the reversal date whenever there is no value deterioration booked.

Financial liabilities at depreciated cost

In reference to financial liabilities, the correspondence is mainly which balance between suppliers and service providers jointly with refundable grants and are booked as liabilities until the conditions to be considered as refundable are met.

The financial liabilities included under this category would be initially valued at cost, that may be equivalent to the reasonable value of the counter payment adjusted with the transaction costs that may be directly assigned to it. Later it may be valued at its depreciated cost.

Its subsequent value would be achieved at its depreciated cost whenever its due date is over one year, and the impact of cash flow updates is relevant in comparison with its nominal value. For financial liabilities in this category with due date below on year, nominal value would be considered.

5) Credits and Debits related to the activity

The current norm would be applicable to:

- a) Credits for the own activity: rights of collection generated for the own activity in front of the beneficiaries, users, sponsors and affiliates.
- The quotes, donations and other similar help given by sponsors, affiliates or other debtors with short term due date originate a right of collection that is booked at its nominal value. If the due date exceeds the period, they will be recognized at their current value. The difference between the current value and the credit nominal is booked as a financial income in the P&L in agreement following the criteria of the depreciated cost.
 - The loans received during the execution of their own activity at zero interest rate or below the market rate are booked as their reasonable value. The difference between the reasonable value and the given value is recognized, at the initial moment, as an expense in P&L according to its nature. After the initial recognition, the reversal of the discount is booked as a financial income in the P&L.
 - Minimum once a year, the valuation corrections need to be run unless there is evidence that a value deterioration has happened in these assets, that may be booked applying the criteria of the depreciation cost.
- b) Debits for the own activity: liabilities generated for the granting of aid and other assignments to the beneficiaries of the entity in compliance with the own objectives.
- The aids and other assignments given by the entity to its beneficiaries, in the short term, generate the recognition of a passive by its nominal value. If deadline is over the given term, it is recognized at its actual value, and the debit nominal is booked as a financial expense in the P&L in agreement with the criteria of depreciated cost.
 - If the concession of the aid is pluriannual, the passive is booked at the actual value of the compromised value in an irrevocable and unconditional way. These criteria are applied as well in those cases in which the aid enlargement is not subjected to periodic evaluation, but to the compliance of the formal or administrative procedures.

6) Inventories

The Entity does not have any inventories of goods with a market value.

7) Foreign currency transactions

All transactions in foreign currency are due in less than one year. All expenditure incurred abroad is calculated using the average exchange rate for the transfers made during the year. Cash in foreign currency held at year-end is valued at the prevailing exchange rate on the 31st of December. Debits and credits in foreign currency are accounted using the exchange rate applicable on the date of the transaction.

8) Corporate income tax

Given the nature of its activities, the Entity is exempt from corporate income tax, in accordance with the regulations for Not-for-Profit Entities with Public Utility status.

9) Income and expenditure

Income and expenditure are accounted for on an accrual basis, i.e. when the actual flow of goods and services they represent occurs, regardless of when the monetary or financial flow arises. The same policy is also used for cooperation projects through the reconciliation of each project's funds as of 31st of December each year.

However, following the prudence concept, the Entity only accounts for income realized at the year-end whilst foreseeable contingencies and losses, including potential losses, are accounted for as soon as they are known.

10) Provisions and contingencies

Due to its type of activity and in the absence of any assets at risk of impairment, deterioration or default, the Entity does not need to make any provisions for contingencies.

11) Grants, donations and legacies

Repayable grants are shown as liabilities until such time as they become non-repayable.

Restricted non-repayable grants, donations and legacies are directly accounted for under net assets at the amount awarded and are later proportionally reclassified as income in the surplus for the year, based on the expenses which the grant is financing.

Non-restricted non-repayable donations are directly accounted for in the surplus for the year. These grants become non-repayable when there is an individual agreement awarding the grant, donation or legacy to the entity, all the conditions for the award have been met and there is no reasonable doubt that it will be received.

Whilst they remain repayable grants, they are accounted for long/short term debts convertible into grants. When the grants are awarded to finance specific costs, they are accounted for as income in the year in which those costs were incurred.

12) Joint Ventures

There are no joint ventures.

13) Transactions with FAMME member Associations

The Federation of medicusmundi Associations brings together eight Associations in Spain. As a result, FAMME carries out transactions with medicusmundi Associations which involve both the shared management of AECID- and EU-funded projects and business deals within the medicusmundi network.

16. RISK ANALYSIS ASSOCIATED TO FINANCIAL TOOLS.

The Federation has an internal "Code of Conduct for Financial Investments", as well as various procedures and internal controls that allow the identification, measurement and management of potential risks associated to the financial activity.

According to what has been established by the Board of CNMV in its instruction of the 20th of February 2019, annually is communicated to the Executive Committee of the Federation the possibility of executing Financial Investments according to the following rules:

- The Federation follows criteria on regards of security, cash and profitability diversifying the investments according to the minimum risk profile in the financial investments and in the entities of deposit of them.
- With the aim of keeping the levels of cash, the majority of the investments are done in financial tools negotiated in secondary official markets and easily interchangeable into cash to make easier its applicability to the nature of the expense to be financed with the funds received by the donors and Public Institutions, that are always kept segregated and in a cash position only.
- Transactions with a speculative nature are avoided, investing only in tools with ensured profitability not to loose purchasing power until its applicability.

a. Credit Risk.

The risks of the Federation linked to its financial tools are mitigated somehow as most of the cash excess are placements of financial tools.

The Federation is not significantly impacted by the credit risk as most of its income is derived of received donations and grants, being unlikely that accounts payable to them are not being effective.

The Federation, as being explained, has an internal Code of Conduct for the realization of Financial Investments that allows them to reduce the risks derived from financial management.

b. Market Risk

Market risk arises because of the loss related to the changes in the reasonable value and in the future cash flow of a financial tool derived from changes in its market value. The market value includes exchange rate impact and other price risks.

I. Exchange rate impact risks.

Exchange rate impact is produced due to the loss related to changes in the reasonable value and in the future cash flows of a financial tool derived from changes in the exchange rates. The Federation does not have financial tools subject to relevant changes related to the exchange rate.

II. Other price risks.

Shares quoted at fixed income securities and investment funds are subject to changes in their reasonable value derived from the market value of such investments.

In any case, the risk in this sense is not relevant as the Federation, during period 2025 and 2024, has only invested its cash in excess fixed-term impositions and in an ISR investment fund. The investment that may be left in assets or in variable income funds always comes from legacies and inheritances and are kept as investments in a transient way.

c. Cash risk.

Cash risk is produced in case the Federation has issues for cash disposal or access to it, for a sufficient amount and at an adequate cost, to be able to face the payments obligations at any time. The entity has no cash risk as of 31st of December.

The current Annual Accounts have been prepared by the Executive Council of the medicusmundi Associations during their board on the 11th of March 2026, later subjected to approval in the Member Assembly.
